

European Association of former Members of Parliaments of the Member States of the Council of Europe or the European Union

Malta, 23rd March 2017.

Mrs Elizabeth Peacock
President of the Association of the Former Members of Parliament
House of Commons – room G13
1 Parliament Street
SW1A 2NE LONDON

Dear Lady,

Dear Mr Bowen Wells,
Dear Mr Robert Banks,
Dear Friends,

The tragic terrorist attack that happened yesterday in Westminster, London, has once again shocked the civil world. This terrorist attack which nobody could possibly have anticipated, had once again showed how the free world has to be aware of the evil and mad individuals holding distorted ideals that sadly are being promoted.

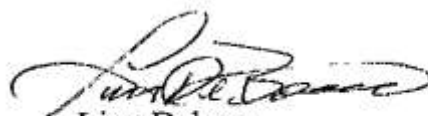

Great Britain who is renowned of holding and being in the forefront for liberties and human rights has once again become a target.

Evil has been with us from the beginning of this world, but humanity who values the rightness of humanity, has always conquered the evil elements.

Britain will also survive this sad and inhuman event and will shine in its liberal values.

We in our European Associations of Former Parliamentarians send our condolences to all those that were killed or injured. We also must point out the courage of the policeman that empty headedly confronted the terrorist even with the risk of losing his own life in stopping this terrorist.

Yours Sincerely,

Lino Debono
President
